Ministry of Magic insiders have heard rumors about a big promotion within the Auror department. Shortly after the Battle of Hagivarts, fifteen years ago, students and loizards who fought during this battle were offered a job as an Auror. The years following many Beath Faters were arrested and imprisoned. Many of them were arrested by Harry Plotter himself. Will the boy who lived create A team of Aurors? An army of Aurors? Will he hunt down the remaining followers of the Bark Lord and bring a definitive end to his evil? FULL REPORT page 5 hen 15 Hogivarts headmaster Severus Urofessor was killed, questions were asked. Now those questions asked about his real intensions remain. Despite being known as a Death Kater, Harry Potter called him "the bravest man J einer knew". The story told by the boy toho lined tells us that the former headmasters did all of this out of late for Rily Hatter, Harry Hatter's mother. If this is true, then why did he use the Unforgivable curse on Albus Dumbledore, why was he known for being an expect in Defense Against the Bark Arts and did he really protect the Malfoys by creating an Unbreakable Bow. Lucius Malfoy, who is spending the rest of his life in Azkaban, confessed to be a Beath Kater and one of the greatest supporters of Youknowisho. Many wizards claim he got killed because of his wand, the so called elder wand. Proof about the existence of this wand has never been found. The story goes that the wand was one of the Beathly Hallows, known from the famous story as told by Reedle the Bard.

Around twenty gnomes found their way into the houses of Mogsmende. Residents noticed tiventy the creatures searching for food in their storage rooms. It is known that there is a small colony of gnomes just outside of the village. These creatures are seldom seen this high into the mountains. Some villagers think the reason for the guomes to visit Hogsmeade is because of a food shortage: gnomes are know to eat certain roots and plants. Their favourite plant was used for herbology classes given at Hogivarts, as claimed by Dogweed and Deathcap. Professor Longbottom is helping the villager to resolve the problem.

difficult profession, but that does not hold our ambifious young and witches and wizards back. In the last few years many students have been working hard to get their grade "Exceeds Expectations N.K.W.T.S". in all the right subjects. These wizards are expected to get an E for Transfiguration, Potions, Charms, Herbology and Defence Against the Bark Arts. The latest war has had a huge influence on these decisions. Taking care of each other and helping other wizards and witches out became very important for parents and the new generations of Mogwarts students. A major downside of this development is the fact that there are less accidents and injuries since the war is over. ogwarts final Battle, also known as the Battle of Hogwarts, was a conflict that signified the end of the Second Mizarding Mar. It took place on 2 May, 1998, within the castle and on the grounds of Mogwarts School of Mitcheraft and Mizardry. When the Bark Lord learned that Harry Potter was in the castle to locate and destroy one of his final Horcruxes, he ordered every Death Kater and creature that had pledged loyalty to him to attack the school. Dumbledore's Army communicated the need to fight to the Order of the Phoenix and their other allies, leading to a large-scale battle. The Bark Lord led his forces from the Shrieking Shack while Kingsley Shacklebolt and Minerva McGonagall led defenders of Mogwarts. The battle ended with a decisive victory for the Order and the A.A., with many Beath Katers and the Park Kord himself dead. It was the most devastating battle of the war, with casualties including the Bark Lord and Bellatrix Testrange, but also Remus Tupin, Nymphadora Tonks, Severus Snape, Fred Measley, Colin Creevey, Lavender Brown and at least fifty more who fought against he who must not benamed and his Beath Eaters. It is also assumed to be the final conflict in which the socalled Elder Mandtookpart.

"The Life and Lies of Albus Bumbledore", biography of Albus Dumbledore written by Rita Skeeter. Though it ran nine-hundred pages in length, Skeeter completed the book only four weeks after Dumbledore's death in June 1997, published in July the same year. As was her common tendency, Rita swooped down in the immediate wake of a death to ensure that public interest remained high, whilst fully exploiting the legal situation that the dead cannot be libelled. The book was rated with five stars by the Daily Prophet. Prior to its release, Betty Braithwaite had visited Rita's home for an interview about the title, and Rita served her tea and a slice of pound cake. Braithwaite's write-up was highly favourable.

many Death Katers and dark wizards. Nonetheless, it became harder and harder to find evil. After the arrest of Leon A. no Beath Katers were found anywhere. It is rumoured that several arrested Beath Katers were being tortured in Azkaban. Head of the Auror Department, Mr Potter told the public this was not the case. At the moment the department is in conclave about their strategies to hunt down the remaining dark wizards.

It is even rumoured that within the Auror department his leadership is being questioned. It is not known who these Aurors are and who should take the seat as head of the department if changes are being made. Others claim that Potter is thinking about offering certain Beath Katers a deal, and that he is willing to release some of them to get names and locations of dangerous wizards still on the loose. Whatever is happening at the office, Potter will have to make an official statement within the next few days in order for him to stay frystworthy. The only statement Potter made was as following: "It's only getting harder to locate those wizards and that soon new arrests will follow, there is still room in Azkaban".

Certain people blame the writers of this new edition for their weak spells. I say it is all up to you. Plame the writers or be confident about your own magic and cast the spells as they should be cast. The more self confidence you have, the
